NEW VOLUME OF POETRY.

8vo, cloth extra, price 6s.

SONGS in EXILE, and other Poems.

By H. E. CLARKE.

"Mr. Clarke is a poet sans phrase, and we should not have included him in this omnium gatherum of minor singers had it not been for a certain tone of imitation, chiefly of Walt Whitman and Mr. Swinburne, from which in these 'Songs in Exile' he has not known quite how to disentangle himself. But that he is a poet, and not a minor poet, we have but little doubt. Nor do we think that anyone who reads the following poem on 'Age' will have much doubt either. He has some spirited 'rebel songs' and some tuneful agnosticism, of both of which we feel some suspicions as to their sincerity, but none whatever as to their goodness. Altogether, this first book of his is the most interesting of its kind which has been published for some years."—Academy.

HURST &amp; BLACKETT'S NEW WORKS

ROYAL WINDSOR. By W. Hep-

WORTH DIXON. Vols. III. and IV., demy 8vo, 30s. Completing the Work. Second Edition.
 "Readers of all classes will feel a genuine regret to think that these volumes contain the last of Mr. Dixon's vivid and lively sketches of English history. His hand retained its cunning to the last, and these volumes show an increase in force and dignity."—Athenaeum.
 "Mr. Dixon's is the picturesque way of writing history. Scene after scene is brought before us in the most effective way. Moreover, Mr. Dixon has been allowed to explore the Castle as it was never explored before; hence his book is not only pleasant reading, but full of information."—Graphic.

CONVERSATIONS with DIS-

TINGUISHED PERSONS during the SECOND EMPIRE, from 1860 to 1863. By the late NASSAU W. SENIOR. Edited by his Daughter, M. C. M. SENIOR. 2 vols., demy 8vo, 30s.
 "Mr. Senior's 'Conversations with M. Thiers, M. Guizot,' &c., published about a year and a half ago, were the most interesting volumes of the series which had appeared up to that time, and these new 'Conversations' are hardly, if at all, less welcome and important. A large part of this delightful book is made up of studies by various critics, from divers points of view, of the character of Louis-Napoleon, and of more or less vivid and accurate explanations of his tortuous policy. The work contains a few extremely interesting reports of conversations with M. Thiers. There are some valuable reminiscences of Lamartine, and, among men of a somewhat later day, of Prince Napoleon, Drouyn de Lhuys, Montalambert, Victor Cousin, Renan, and the Chevaliers."—Athenaeum.
 "It is impossible to do justice to these 'Conversations' in a brief notice, so we must content to refer our readers to volumes which, wherever they are opened, will be found pregnant with interest."—Times.

CECIL HAY, Author of "Old Myddleton's Money," &amp;c. 3 vols.

HANDOLPH, Author of "Gentianella," &amp;c. 3 vols.

"A very excellent novel. The plot is marvellously ingenious, and is worked out with singular skill. Readers will be amply rewarded by the perusal of its pages."—Sunday Times.

A SYLVAN QUEEN. By the AUTHOR of "RACHEL'S SECRET," &amp;c. 3 vols.

"A 'Sylvan Queen' is a picturesque one, and on the whole, very pleasant story, but the plot of which consists in its bright little pictures of country life and character."—Athenaeum.

LORD BEACONSFIELD: his Life, Character, and Works. A Critical Study. By GEORGE BRANDES. Translated by Mrs. GEORGE STURGE. Demy 8vo, 10s. 6d.

THE "TIMES."

"A study of a living statesman by a judicious foreigner must be always instructive. Most Englishmen, whether Whig or Tory, will turn with no little interest to the pages of Herr Brandes to see the impression made on an acute and critical German by one of the most remarkable personalities in modern European politics. We have no space to examine in detail the manner in which Herr Brandes has executed his task. It was manifestly congenial to him, and he has not a few qualifications for it. His information is copious and singularly accurate so far as we have tested it; and his literary criticisms at least are sound, penetrating, and genial. As a biography, his work is far more valuable, because more concise and impartial, than any which has appeared in England. As a criticism, it is generally instructive, and often suggestive."

"VANITY FAIR."

"Herr Brandes is the first author who has touched the personality and history of Lord Beaconsfield with anything like scientific critical method. . . . As a rule his work is really remarkable for sound conclusions and calm sense."

PRINCE METTERNICH'S AUTOBIOGRAPHY. Edited by his Son, PRINCE METTERNICH. Translated by ROBERTA NAPIER. With Portrait and Facsimiles. 2 vols., demy 8vo, 38s.

THE OLD REGIME: Court, Salons, and Theatres. By CATHERINE CHARLOTTE LADY JACKSON, Author of "Old Paris," &c. With Portraits of Louis XV., Marie-Antoinette, Rousseau, Voltaire, Mdlme. du Barry, and Mdlle. Clairon. 2 vols., large crown 8vo, 24s.

THE HEART of HOLLAND. By Henry HAVARD, Author of "The Dead Cities of the Zuyder Zee," "Picturesque Holland," &c. Translated by Mrs. CASHEL HOBY. Demy 8vo, with Eight Illustrations, 15s.

"SATURDAY REVIEW."

"The Heart of Holland" stands the best test to which a book of travels can be put. It raises in the reader a strong desire to follow in the footsteps of the author. We had not reached the end of M. Havard's volume before we had got out our maps, our Bradshaw, and our Baedeker, and planned another trip to Holland."

NEW NOVELS AT ALL LIBRARIES.

THE MONTHYON PRIZE NOVEL, "SANS FAMILLE." NO RELATIONS. By Hector Malot. Translated by the Author of "Hogan, M.P.," &c. 3 vols., crown 8vo.

"An extremely fascinating story, written with unflagging force, and as full of genuine pathos as of graceful and delicate descriptions. . . . This novel fully deserves the honour that has been done it."—Blackwood's Magazine.

TWO WOMEN. By Georgiana M. Craik. 3 vols., crown 8vo.

"Those who have not yet perused this latest story by Miss Craik may be warmly recommended to do so."—Morning Post.

NEW NOVEL, BY THE AUTHOR OF "FLITTERS, TATTERS, AND THE COUNSELLOR." CHRISTY CAREW. By the Author of "Hogan, M.P.," "The Hon. Miss Ferrard," &c. 3 vols., crown 8vo.

"Christy Carew" is a very clever book, displaying in many places passages such as one has at present the right to expect from George Eliot alone. The characters are most original in conception and true to nature."—Morning Post.

HISTORY.

The ANGLER'S NOTE-BOOK is a magazine for recording notes and observations on the habits and natural history of fish, bird, and beast, on adventures and captures, on tackle and lures, on grounds and quarters, and on those thousand and one matters, literary, artistic, and scientific, of interest to Anglers, Sportsmen, and Field Naturalists.

The ANGLER'S NOTE-BOOK opens its pages to all notes of this character, whether new or old, if records of original observation and of general interest and permanent value; it contains questions and answers of correspondents on all subjects coming within its scope; and also notices of men, deeds, and books of the past and the present.

The ANGLER'S NOTE-BOOK is printed in a form which admits of its being readily bound and kept for future use. The want of such a book of reference has long been felt. The weekly sporting papers, invaluable on their own ground (upon which the "Note-Book" will not trench), fail to supply it. To bind them is costly; they are cumbersome to handle when bound; ordinary book-cases are not large enough to hold them, and patience is soon exhausted in hunting through their closely-packed pages. Year by year thousands of interesting notes are thus practically lost. With the advent of the "Note-Book" this need no longer happen.

The ANGLER'S NOTE-BOOK is printed on good paper, in small quarto form, and issued in a neat wrapper, on the 1st and 15th of the month. Twenty-four numbers will form a volume, and be provided with a title-page and a copious index, in which all the facts garnered during the year will be properly classified and made available for easy reference.

Subscription: Annual, 12s.; Quarterly, 3s. (post-free).
